23rd Annual Health Conference - Sponsorship Opportunity

We invite you to sponsor our 23rd Annual Health Conference (AHC) this year! This conference is our marquee event, attracting professionals from all across NYS each year. Our focus is on community health for young people and adults and this year our presenters will be speaking on topics such as food insecurity, substance use and paraphernalia, adverse childhood experiences, human trafficking and age appropriate sexual health education.

For event sponsors, this is a unique chance to connect with like-minded individuals and business professionals to share your resources and support their work. Each year we offer scholarships for community agencies and schools so their staff members can attend this event. Your sponsorship will help us keep costs affordable and offer these scholarships to ensure everyone can attend. Attendees consist of school professionals, educators, medical providers and staff, and community agencies. Here are our sponsorship opportunities for this year:
